—Married, at the residence of the bride's father, W. H. Wilkinson, on Wednesday, by Rev. Mr. Henson, Mr. J. W. Pelly, of Dunnville, to Miss Lena Wilkinson.

—It is reported that little business will be done in circuit court, which convened yesterday, owing to the new constitution not making the proper provision for providing for juries in time.

—Sheriff J. N. Menefee has delivered in Liberty to our county authorities W. B. Smith, who has been figuring lately in embezzlement cases. He was sent to jail, but it is reported that he will be able to give bond on Monday.

—Col. Silas Adams arrived from Somerset Thursday night. He reports everything going all right in that section. Maj. Geo. W. Drye, of the Rolling Fork section, arrived here on Monday and is boarding with J. W. Wilkinson. It is probable that he will remain here for some time.

—There was a grand hop at the courthouse on the 29th. It is said by those who were present that there were some of the prettiest girls in the State on hands. Ansel Latham and son did the fiddling. Casey county can always furnish pretty maids and a few of the young men are somewhat passable.

—Pretty little Annie Rooney, the three-year-old daughter of our popular hotel-keeper, Charlie Prescott, made the following report of one of our lately married county officials, who is rather diminutive in stature: "Pa, I saw Bud kiss his new wife to day and he had to tiptoe up to reach her mouth."

—A creditable debate was held in the Chapel Friday night, Nov. 24, by the young men. Demosthenes in his primitive efforts could not have been more earnest or probably not more embarrassed, but "perseverance conquers all things," and a Demosthenes may yet be developed in Christian College.

—The age is a progressive one and education must keep pace with the times. Pupils must no longer "go through a book" but they must dwell therein. The foundation must be firmly built, before the superstructure is added, else the building is liable to fall when the winds of adversity shall come in all their force and power.

—Christian College was never in better running condition than at present. A finer class of students were never before assembled within its walls. Representatives are enrolled from Missouri, Ohio, Covington, Ky., Garrard county, Casey county, Simpson county and Lincoln comes forward with a good local patronage in quality and in numbers.

—Mr. J. M. Cook remains quite ill. A noble type of man, he is much beloved in this community, where many warm friends sympathize with him in his affliction. Mrs. Annie Sharpe and little son, Abe, of McMee, Ky., made the College a pleasant visit last week. Miss Mattie Davis, of Harrodsburg, is visiting Miss VanArsdel at the College.

—Teaching seems to be the chosen profession of the majority of the graduates of Christian College, Hustonville, and four adjoining districts are taught by their graduates. They are giving fine satisfaction and doing credit to their Alma Mater. Though comparatively young under the management of the present principal she has more than a score of graduates in the field.

HUBBLE.

—Eph Pennington and James Huffman killed 23 rabbits Thanksgiving and said it was an off day.

—We are sorry to learn that our tur key men at Lancaster and Danville have lost money. J. C. Enbanks & Bro. sold to McHubble 70 ewes at $2 per head.

—Dr. Bogie, of Danville, presented Wm. Snow with a fine girl last Thursday as it was a day of thanksgiving and you ought to hear Billy gas now; you would think he was thankful for the little treasure.

—It is rumored that Squire Bright will get the appointment to watch the distillery near here. We hope that he will, for in as much as we have to have it in our community, we want as good men to control it as we can get.

—Messrs. George and Eugene Woods are putting up a copper distillery at the old paper mill. Mrs. James Spoonamore, of Beuna Vista, has been among her friends here for a few days. Misses Bettie and Annie Spoonamore are arranging to attend school at Harrodsburg.

—Thorton Thurman died on Friday at the residence of his son, M. C. Thurman. He was 88 years of age and had spent 50 of them in Danville.

—Mrs. Laura Morrison, wife of Rev. H. C. Morrison and daughter of Temperance Lecturer G. W. Bain, died at her home in Lexington Thanksgiving day. She was about 24 years old and a lovely woman.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Uncle Joe Weisger is critically ill with typhoid fever at his home on Lexington street.

—Mr. G. M. Patterson's new residence on Lexington street is going up rapidly and will be a beauty.

—Sunday was a very disagreeable one, as it was either snowing, raining or sleeting all day. Very few people attended the churches.

—Wm. Hundley, who has been in jail since last July, charged with attempting to rape his 16-year-old daughter, was released last week as the girl had skipped out and there was no proof against him.

—The county judge has appointed Mr. O. T. Wallace to fill out the unexpired term of John L. Anderson as school superintendent. Mr. Anderson took his position in the patent office on the first of this month.

—Thanksgiving services were held at the Methodist church Thursday morning. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. The exercises consisted of vocal solos, duets and choruses and short talks by Revs. Terrey, Greer and Campbell.

—Mr. James R. Marrs, who has been serving as general deputy under Collector Rhodes, has tendered his resignation as such and will take charge of our local newspaper, the Record-Homeside, today. Mr. Marrs is a natural born newspaper man and a typical gentleman and our citizens gladly welcome him back to his old home.

—In our hurry to get up our last letter we failed to report the marriage of Mr. Will Jennings to Miss Minnie Rucker, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, last Tuesday. The attendants were Sam Jennings and Miss Lida Rucker and James Rucker and Miss Lizzie Jennings. Mr. Jennings is engaged in business at Paint Lick and they will go to housekeeping there.

—Mr. Bert Spencer, of Louisville, spent Sunday with his parents. Miss Jennie Barnside is visiting Miss Katie McGrath. Miss Nannie Harris entertained a few friends Thursday evening. All report a pleasant time. Miss Lizzie Simpson is visiting Mrs. Lizzie Rice. Mr. Letcher Owsley has returned from Lexington. Miss Minnie Elliott has returned from Danville. Mr. Ralph Anderson, son of Mrs. Clayton Anderson, is here on a visit to his mother. He has been in Texas and the West for 20 years and this is his first visit home. Miss Allie Anderson leaves this month for Knoxville to visit her sister, Mrs. Sarah Marrs. Mr. Will Jennings and wife spent Thanksgiving with Mr. J. C. Rucker.

—The concert and supper at the courthouse on Wednesday evening, the 29th ult., for the benefit of Lancaster Lodge, No. 104, A. Y. M. was well attended and the net proceeds amounted to about $75. The supper was excellent in every respect and admirably served by the ladies who had the same in charge. The exercises consisted of songs and recitations by Misses Mary Gill, Mary Joseph and Mary Barnside, Margaret Mason, Mamie Elliott, Eugenia Dunlap and Masters Willie Fox Logan and George Dunlap. All received liberal applause, while Master Dunlap was compelled to respond to an encore. Mrs. W. G. Dunlap presided at the organ and furnished excellent accompaniments. The concert band rendered excellent selections and all were delighted with their performances. Mr. Louis Walker delivered an interesting address on "The World's Fair" and Gen. W. J. Landrum spoke briefly upon "The Origin, Universality and Objects of Free Masonry." Rev. J. R. Terrey, Master of the Lodge, was present and supervised the exercises.

—The death of Elder Joseph C. Frank, who has been ill for several months past, occurred at his residence at early hour Friday morning, Dec. 1. His sickness commenced immediately after the election that settled the question in favor of local option in the three precincts centering in the town. He was the leader of the temperance forces and labored hard on the stump, in the pulpit and in mixing with the people. He was familiar with all the legislation that had ever been enacted and the decisions of the courts upon the liquor question and was better informed upon that subject than any one in the State. He regarded the liquor traffic as one of the greatest evils with which the religious and moral element of society had to deal and he was ready at all times and upon all occasions to strike it a blow. Though his death was hardly a surprise, it came nevertheless as a shock to the entire community, for his ability and zeal as a minister, his devotion to principle and his courage in proclaiming his convictions made him to all intents and purposes one of the most prominent citizens of our town and county. He was buried in the cemetery here on Sunday, the funeral services being held at the Christian church at 3 o'clock P. M.

In Memory of Elder Frank.

Joseph C. Frank is dead! and the church of Christ in this State has experienced the saddest death it has felt for many years. Oh, that these words could pay that tribute of respect to his memory it so richly deserves. I would put no wreath upon his grave, but instead a scroll, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live, and he that liveth and believeth shall never die." Oh that we ministers of the Gospel that survive him could catch that heroic spirit and learn the lessons of that brave man living and dead! It was not my pleasure to know Bro. Frank personally and yet the influence of his life was felt by me, as it was by hundreds of others who never saw him. The qualities of his heroism combined two principles of the soul upon which he seized with singular force—extreme conscientiousness and unswerving bravery. He was fearless in saying what he thought. Fear seems to have been unknown to him. Extremely conscientious and intensely ardent in conviction, his life and teaching moved upon the highest plane of revelation to the highest consideration of human duty. The Master has given to few men such felicity and success as was his in doing his work as pastor and leader. Certainly the spirit in which that work has been done is the spirit of utter consecration. His faith was absolute; his hope was unquenchable; a thorough consciousness of God's presence and a resolution to make religion dominate the circle in which he moved and the means by which the kingdoms of this world are to be made the kingdoms of our God and his Christ.

Perhaps aside from his work as a preacher of the old Jerusalem gospel, nothing stands out more prominently than the great work he did against the liquor traffic where his lot was cast. He never waited to see what somebody else would say; he was not bound by the conventionalities of society, nor was he scared by the flutter of a newspaper, but with his utter disregard for human criticism and an unwavering faith in God, he plunged into the midst of this great Austerlitz while heaven and earth and hell waited the stupendous issue. The bottles in the groghops may rattle with gladness and that drunkenness "which biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder" hiss for joy. "But boast not, O thou demon of the pit!" If Joe Frank is dead the principles which he advocated live. Our Eliza is buried but his grave shall not be closed and this inert cause shall touch his bones and spring up with tenfold power and go forth on its heavenly mission in the world.

As I sat listening to the funeral sermon by Bro. J. W. McGarvey telling of the great work of this brave man of God, I felt that God had given him a work to do and he had done it—"finished the course" though only 52 years of age; had "fought the good fight and kept the faith" and had gone home to "wear the crown of righteousness" with Paul and Stephen and John and all those faithful ones "that love his appearing." From that life that has passed into eternity there comes a voice saying prepare to die; prepare for the world to which he has gone and of which he carried in his own breast so rich and earnest pledge to a world of peace and rest and love. He has gone to the Savior whom he loved; to the God whose universal love he adored, but not wholly gone. Like righteous Abel though dead yet he speaketh. Not gone in spirit, for I am sure that better world has heightened his affections for his loved ones here and the race he served, and his influence and his thoughts remain in his works and his memory is laid up as a sacred treasure in many minds.

May his beautiful faith be the heritage of his sorrowing wife and children that will make them endure as seeing Him who is invisible and comfort them even in this hour of sadness. May his mantle fall upon his son, who is trying to follow in the footsteps of the beloved father, and as he goes forth to preach the Gospel of Christ, may he do so with the same unwavering faith and unswerving courage as he whose voice is silent forever more.

W. E. ELLIS.

Stanford, Ky., Dec. 4, 1893.

—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe has contracted with the Baldwin locomotive works for the building of 71 locomotives. Forty-two are to be begun at once. This is one of the largest orders the Baldwin works have ever received from a single road and it looks like times are improving in railroad affairs.

—Victor F. Cyrier, a drug clerk, and Mrs. E. L. Caron, wife of Cyrier's employer, were both found dead in the Virginia Hotel, in Chicago. Letters were left admitting their intimacy. They took morphine but Cyrier's dose was not sufficient to produce death and he ended his miserable existence with a pistol.

—During the rush of travel to the World's Fair 163 people were killed and 471 injured. There has been no accident of any importance since the Fair closed.

GRAB ORCHARD.

—The members of the Christian Church Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Brooks next Thursday afternoon. Every member is requested to be present.

—A few days since, while playing at school, Davie Holdman fell and broke his left arm. He has not used his right hand since a child, as it was accidentally cut, rendering it entirely useless. He had learned to use his left hand as well as most people their right, but now has to be fed like a child. His friends hope he will soon be well.

—Miss Maggie Middleton has returned after a pleasant visit to friends at Paint Lick. M. Livingston, of Cincinnati, was visiting at Dr. Doores. Mrs. Margaret Stephenson is confined to her bed with a severe attack of grip, this being her second trial of it. Miss Hattie Henry, a charming young lady of Lancaster, attended the College exercises, as did the Misses Martha, of Preachersville, and Dr. and Mrs. Bronaugh, of Stanford.

—The members of the minstrel troupe hereby extend their heartfelt thanks to the members of the Crab Orchard Literary Association for the banquet given in their behalf at the C. O. Springs, Friday night. Prof. S. D. Willis superintended the feast and it was all that could be desired. Our thanks are due the public as well as the patrons. Done by order of Sam Magee, Harry Magee, Joe Magee, Curtis Egbert, George DeBorde, John DeBorde, Wade Perkins, Phil Pettus, Burch Buchanan, Clarence Hardin. The society extend thanks to Mr. Gus Hofmann for the use of the piano and other favors granted.

—A large crowd was present at the entertainment Thanksgiving night and all seemed well pleased with the exercises. We are sure they were well paid for the amount charged at the door was reasonably small. The young people of our college deserve especial praise and we would like to compliment each one had we space. The songs by Misses Josie and Annie May Stephens and Berta James were nicely rendered, as also were the instrumental pieces by Misses Bessie Carson, Hattie Edmiston and Bessie Magee. "The Face Against the Pane" was feelingly recited by Miss Alice Moore, who displayed much elocutionary talent. Joe Newland's recitation, orations and declamations by Scott Anderson and Will White were splendidly rendered and many were the smiles at Park Anderson's "Little Men." The "School Room Scene" was nicely presented and was a typical picture of an old spinster's mode of teaching. Prof. Willis spoke encouraging words and gave the honor of the entertainment entirely to the energy of the pupils. Too much cannot be said of the minstrel performance, which was as good as anything of the kind we ever witnessed and the thanks of the school are especially due to Sam Magee, Curtis Egbert, and Joe Magee, who so kindly assisted and worked so untiringly for the success of the entertainment, neither of these young gentlemen being members of the school, yet each fully realizes the benefit to our young people of a public library.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—The town clock froze up on run down Sunday night at half past twelve.

—G. R. Brock and Lizzie Baker and J. P. Williams and Julia Bevens, procured marriage license Thanksgiving day.

—Cards have been received here announcing the marriage of Miss Bessie Adams, of Paint Lick, and Mr. Ed England, of Barbourville, Dec. 6.

—Your correspondent has been appointed High Coroner of Laurel county and is now ready to attend all dead people found lying around loose in the woods.

—Old Farmer Hopkins was with us Friday night and the audience was the most appreciative one I ever saw. Saturday night the company rendered "Fritz, the German Detective," but the weather was so bad the attendance was not what was expected.

—Craig Gragg, who about a month ago returned from a two-years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Frankfort for manslaughter, was shot and mortally wounded in a saloon near Pittsburgh by James Smallwood. He was shot in the bowels and died next morning.

—The wife of William Cowley, of Erie, Pa., objected to his playing cards and drinking beer at her home and a quarrel followed. Cowley attacked her, the effects of which will more than likely kill her. Remorse for his act afterwards impelled him to put a bullet in his brain, killing him instantly.

—George Armstrong, colored, was hung at Taylorsville, Friday, for the murder of Kate Downs in September, 1892. His neck was not broken and it took him 14 minutes to strangle to death. His last words were: "Ladies and gentlemen, both white and black, I hope you will meet me in heaven."

—W. S. Maxson, superintendent of the Somerset public school, has been indicted by the grand jury for whipping Robert Shadoan, a 13-year-old school boy at that place.

SEVERANCE & SON.

FARRIS & HARDIN,

Have open and ready for your inspection an immense assortment of

Holiday Goods,

And you are cordially invited to call and see them while the stock is unbroken.

THE HARD TIMES ARE OVER

At last. The consumer has been squeezed long and hard by the giant monopolies of manufactures, but now the panic-stricken and overloaded manufacturers and importers are dumping their products as fast as they can, which means that prices are now being

SLAUGHTERED

Right and left, and the fellow with the cash can lay in his goods and sell them far below old prices. I am happy to say to one and all that I have been one of the fortunate ones and have them in my house. They are new and fresh; no old stock or second-hand goods, rotten with age or infected with disease, but fresh from the manufacturers. Read these prices and see the goods. All the standard brands of Calicoes at 5c yard; Hoosier Cotton 5c yard. Men's Calf Shoes $1, worth $1.50. Baby Shoes 25c, worth 75c. Children's Shoes 50c worth $1. I will also have a mammoth line of Ladies' Cloaks Oct 1st at half price. A full line of Family Groceries.

Come early and get the best at auction prices. Respectfully,

JAMES FRYE, Hustonville.

In their impotent fury the republican papers are endeavoring in every way to belittle Mr. Wilson and the democratic majority of the Ways and Means Committee. The Commercial Gazette says the chairman is a "weak brother, a dilettante school teacher and a reed shaken by the wind, with no practical knowledge of business whatever." The same paper says that Benton McMillin, though more loud-mouthed and vociferous than Wilson, is as weak and uncertain about practical matters as is Wilson, and the other Southern members are little improvement over them, being school teachers, theorists and cross roads country lawyers. The fool who wrote this is evidently of the opinion that all the wisdom of the land is centered in the republican party and that no good can come out of the South. This kind of an alleged argument against the new tariff bill will do it no harm. It does not cut as deep and is not so much a revenue only bill as we should like, but the committee has done the very best it could under the circumstances and we believe that both Congress and the people will endorse its work.

It is mighty hard to get printers' ink off the fingers when it once gets good and hard on them. It is also true that but few Federal or other kind of officers die and scarcely none resign. Mr. J. R. Marrs has proved again the truth of the former assertion, and broke the precedent on the latter by resigning the chief deputyship under Collector Rodas and returning again to his mutton. To use a homely, but no less true expression, Bro. Marrs is too old a dog to learn new tricks. So he has again taken charge of the Lancaster Record and will make that paper a credit to our worthy neighbor. He was getting a salary of $1,900 besides perquisites and that seems large to give up for a country paper, but there is much more than that in the Record for him and we hope he will get it. Here's looking at you old man and may you never be tempted again to wander from your first love after other less attractive girls.

CONGRESS convened in regular session yesterday and according to the rules business will be resumed where it was left off at the adjournment of the extra session, though it is not thought that much will be done this side of the holidays. The Washington dispatches say that the president's message urges the early passage of the Wilson tariff bill that the country may not suffer from uncertainty and endorses the policy of Secretary Gresham in the Hawaiian matters. We will give the message in full in our next issue.

MR. VAN ALLEN has declined to accept the appointment, which was confirmed by the Senate, as ambassador to Italy, and reiterated his determination, although urged to withdraw it by Mr. Cleveland. His action was caused by the comments on his appointment, which was claimed to have been given him because he contributed $50,000 to the democratic campaign fund. His letters both to Secretary Gresham and to the president show that Mr. Van Allen is a man of brains and worthy of most any honor.

THE Ashland Morning Call has ceased to call. It was doing its calling with type it hadn't paid for and the Chicago Foundry requested the sheriff to close up the office, which that officer forthwith proceeded to do. The primary cause of the failure is that Ashland is not large enough to support a good weekly, much less a poor daily.

JUDGE BILLINGS, of the U. S. District Court of Louisiana, who has held the office since Grant was president, died Saturday at his home in New Haven, Conn. The incident is chiefly noteworthy because it will give President Cleveland a chance to place another democrat on the bench that has so long been occupied by republicans.

MARION has a Solomon for a county judge. A negro slipped up behind another and killed him without warning and yet this legal luminary held that it was only manslaughter and admitted the accused to bail. Wonder what constitutes murder in the mind of that learned jurist?

THE Covington Commonwealth varies its made to order, boiler plate editorials by reproducing from this paper verbatim and without credit. Shades of Gaines, Emerson et al forgive the new men. They know not what they do.

THE Cincinnati Tribune did not fill a long felt want. Leastwise the public did not regard it as a sine qua non. Suit has been entered to wind up its affairs and assess the liabilities of the stockholders.

At the rate they are going, Pennsylvania will soon run out of Congressmen. Wm. Lilly, who represented the State-at-large, is the third to die since the last election.

—The protracted meeting at the Methodist church will begin Thursday night. Rev. W. E. Arnold will conduct the services until Saturday night, when Rev. H. C. Morrison will arrive and take up the work. Rev. F. S. Pollitt, of Richmond, is also expected to be present next week.

—Rev. Hiram Eddy, Canaan, Conn., known as the "fighting parson," because of his being captured with a musket in his hand at Bull Run when chaplain of Connecticut regiment, is dead. He was the first inmate of Libby prison and after the war established the first freedmen's school in the South.

—A Cincinnati Post correspondent tells about a fight at New Salem church between a couple of women who wore each other into a frazzle. The encounter must have had a good effect for the item adds that after the smoke of battle had cleared away Rev. W. R. Davidson preached and 10 persons professed religion.

—Speaking of the sanctification meeting held in Warren recently the Times acknowledges that it has been some what converted to the sanctification theory in full view of the fact that a six-foot sample of the sanctified crop harvested there last year has recently, in a moment of tremendous and overwhelming enthusiasm, emphatically asserted that whoever said he wasn't sanctified was a liar.

—Rev. Wm. J. Holtzclaw is assisting Dr. J. S. Coleman in a revival at Pleasant Ridge, which has reached a point of interest superior to any religious movement in the history of that country. At the end of the first week there 23 additions to the church and 50 under conviction of sin who gave their hands for prayer. The church is crowded to its utmost capacity, many being unable to get anything but standing room. At last night's services over 100 manifested a desire for salvation, many of whom are heads of families.—Owensboro Inquirer. Mr. Holtzclaw is a native of this country.

PERSONAL POINTS.

H. C. THOMPSON, of London, was here Friday.

CHARLEY HAYDEN is down with cholera-morbus.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. FLORENCE went to Louisville Friday.

CHARLES J. CRAWFORD, of Rockcastle, was in town Saturday.

DR. W. B. PENNY has been laid up with rheumatism but is much better.

MR. W. W. THOMAS, of Chicago, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. B. McRoberts.

MRS. JOHN ELLIS and Miss Sadie Ellis have returned from a visit to relatives at Hustonville.

ED STUBBS, who is clerking for his uncle, Mr. A. E. Gibbons, of Danville, spent Thanksgiving at home.

MRS. J. M. BEAZLEY has rented the Pennington residence on East Main street and will keep boarders.

MR. J. M. COOK, who was thought to be dying when we went to press before, rallied and is now resting easy.

THE MIDDLESBORO NEWS says that Capt. W. R. Fretwell has been promoted to yard master at Lebanon Junction.

SENATOR A. R. DYCKE, of the London Echo, passed through Sunday to attend the Liberty coat and get acquainted with Senator Sang Digger Lay.

MRS. L. B. COOK went to Harrodsburg yesterday to attend the burial of the youngest child, a girl, aged about two years, of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sallee.

MRS. NANNIE W. OWENS and son, Ed, have rented Mrs. Fannie Dunn's property on the Danville pike, beyond the toll gate and will move into it in a few days.

J. T. SANDIFER has accepted the position of cashier of the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington. His family will remain here during the winter.—Middlesboro News.

MRS. G. C. GIVENS, of Stanford, and Miss Sallie Moore, of this city, arrived Wednesday from Crawfordsville, Ind., where they have been visiting their sisters, Mrs. Albert Miller and Mrs. W. W. Goltz. Miss Moore spent 13 weeks in Crawfordsville and Mrs. Givens was there three weeks.—Paris News.

THE MIDDLESBORO correspondent of the Paris News says: "Mrs. Steele Bailey, of Stanford, is the guest of Mrs. T. M. Farnell, a former schoolmate at Bellewood. They had not seen each other for 40 years." This is a bad break sure enough. Mrs. Bailey is not that old perhaps by 10 years.

MR. JOE F. WATERS, of Stanford, was in the county last week, visiting his sister, Mrs. Chap Coleman. Mr. Waters paid us a pleasant call Saturday. He is a newspaper man and is connected with the most excellent contemporary, the ISTERIOR JOURNAL. Mr. Waters wields a facile quill and is known to our readers under the pen name of "Sretaw."—Harrodsburg Sayings.

CITY AND VICINITY.

WANTED, a good farm hand with small family for 1894. W. P. Tate, Stanford.

COME and see that holiday bargains do exist and that we give them. Danks, the Jeweler.

I WILL kill hogs and clean them for 40 cents and will deliver them to you for 10 cents extra. Pete Hinton.

MISS LIZZIE SLAYMAKER will take orders for oil paintings, crayon or any decorative art work for Xmas.

GIVE our blacksmith a trial. He is a scientific workman and his charges are the same as others. Yeager & Yeager.

READ our advertisement and come and get a cloak and dress cheaper than you ever bought them before. Severance & Son.

AT Penny's you will find the largest, best selected stock and latest styles in watches and jewelry. New stock just received at prices lower than the lowest.

THE "old reliable" Jeweler, Penny.

AN Opera Company has written for a date at Walton's Opera House Dec. 18, when it will present "Fennet."

MERCHANTS complain of hard times. Not so at Penny's; always busy. He sells the best goods at low prices.

THE boys are so much pleased with the success of their last hop that they have decided to have another on New Year's night.

TWENTY shares of Somerset Banking Co. stock for sale. If not sold before court day will be sold to the highest bidder. J. S. Hughes.

AFTER January 1st, 1894, I will proceed to collect the unsettled accounts in my hands of Stephens & Knox by law. W. H. Higgins, Receiver.

THE attention of Messrs. Rothwell and Hubble, the Lancaster bellringers, is called to the suggestion made by Elliott Smith, in the current issue of the Mt. Vernon Signal. He offers some excellent advice.

Is order that the room may be properly prepared for W. H. Wearen & Co., who have leased it for a term of years, Mrs. Fokle T. Courts is moving the post office to the Carson store-room, just vacated by R. Fenzel, where she will also have her millinery.

THE Old Farmer Hopkins Co. delighted a large audience here Thanksgiving night. Mr. Davidson is a capital comedian and each performer fits his part like a glove. The fine scenery which the troupe carries, adds greatly to the effect of the play, which is a clever mingling of the tragic and the comical.

THE hop was largely attended, but it was remarkable how few of whom are now returned the older set were present. The kids, both male and female, have the day here very decidedly now and the others are not in it a little bit. The local orchestra furnished the music, which was equal to any ever given at a hop here.

THE trustees of the common school, C. H. Holmes, principal, are very anxious to know what school had fled into their building on Thursday last. Two bullet holes are plainly visible and had the shots been fired during school hours it is more than probable that somebody would have been shot. An effort is being made to find out who the guilty party is and if caught, will be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

RAILROAD CHANGE.—Capt. Frank Harris, chief train dispatcher, has been transferred to the Lebanon agency, the best on the Knoxville Division, and W. F. Sheridan, of the Louisville dispatcher's office, has been made chief dispatcher at Rowland. Mr. Sheridan filled this position before very satisfactorily and his friends will be glad to have him back, while everybody will regret the departure of Capt. Harris and his excellent wife. They have been here for a number of years and have made friends of all with whom they have come in contact.

JUNCTION CITY.—The fellow Salyards claiming to be from Greene county, and to whom the printing outfit of the Times was knocked off, skipped the town, leaving unpaid board bills at both Capt. Richard's Hotel and the Tribble Home.

A Mr. Depew, of Tennessee has opened a grocery in the store room recently vacated by W. T. Richardson.

Mrs. Capt. Thomas Richards has been quite sick, but is now much better.

MR. W. S. HILTON's health is rapidly failing and he will be compelled to quit the mercantile business.

MR. Embury Beazley will continue to be head clerk at the Tribble Home after Jan. 1st, when Mr. Zan Tribble will take charge.

THE C. S. made an effort to run its fast trains through Junction City without stopping, but the L. & N. and Capt. Bell, the mail agent, couldn't stand a thought of it and put a stop to the proceedings.

A LECTURE COURSE.—Messrs. W. E. Ellis, Will Severance Clarence E. Tate and W. P. Walton have formed an association for the purpose of guaranteeing to the Southern Lyceum a sufficient amount to cover the cost of four lectures. Season tickets will be sold at $1.50 for the four, to which the general admission will be 50 cents. The first entertainment will be by Fred D. Looney, the excellent young impersonator who delighted us last year and he will be here Dec. 14.

Prof. James Hedley, whose lecture was thought by many to have been the best of the last course, will appear Jan. 23.

Hon. H. W. J. Hays, a noted Southern orator, comes on Feb. 18, and Col. L. F. Copeland April 5. It is the desire to get each church interested and to select the most popular ladies from each to sell the season tickets. Nothing is more improving than a course of good lectures and it is to be hoped our people will avail themselves of the opportunity presented to enjoy it. The association lost money last year. Don't let it do so this year.

This division of the L. & N., 171.17 miles, is assessed at $16,000 a mile and the Richmond Branch of the K. O. at $5,000. There are 3,014 miles of railroad in the State.

THE following will apply to the county court next Monday for license to sell liquors: A. R. Penny and J. P. Crow, as druggists, J. H. Carter and R. T. Smith as merchants, and Henry Hester as a manufacturer and Curtis Gover as hotel-keeper.

AT their meeting Friday night the Knights of Honor elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Prof. J. M. Hubbard, P. D.; W. L. Withers, D.; R. C. Warren, V. D.; A. A. Warren, R.; Geo. D. Wenren, F. R.; J. J. McRoberts, Treasurer.

THE L. & N. officials and the grievance committee of trainmen have fixed next Saturday as the day for a conference on the question of a restoration of wages, the company having promised to restore them in case the earnings showed sufficient increase.

IT is less than three weeks to Christmas and the time is here again for our usual double numbers for the benefit of holiday advertisers. We will begin next week and double the size of the L. J. till Dec. 25th. Those who intend to take advantage of the opportunity to advertise their "Xmas trix" will please notify us as early as possible.

WINTER weather came with the advent of winter, closing Sunday in the worst kind of a day, when it rained, hailed, sleeted and snowed. Yesterday was somewhat better, but the streets and roads were so slick as to render locomotion dangerous to life and limb. Fair and warmer weather is promised for today by the man at Washington, who makes it to order.

OUR esteemed contemporary the Danville Advocate, is only rivaled as a foot-ball organ by the no less esteemed contemporary, the Courier-Journal, both of which fill columns of space with reports of the murderous sport. The defeat of the Central Universities by the Vanderbilts will give the Danville paper another chance to crow and it may be depended upon to do it lustily.

SEE PLAYED HIM FAIR.—Fortune does not seem to smile on Mr. James Pepples and if he gave any thanks on Thursday last we'll warrant that they were very low and far between. Everything was in readiness for his marriage on Thanksgiving day to Miss Sallie Teaters, except Miss Teaters herself, and as she was to play quite a prominent role in the matrimonial drama, the wedding did not occur. His nephew who was in town yesterday says that Miss Teaters called at Mr. Pepples's house Wednesday and found the old gentleman at dinner. A lover of buttermilk, he was spilling it all over himself, and when his intended met him he presented anything but a neat appearance, with the milk dripping from his whiskers. In his excitement at the presence of his would-be bride, he got up from the table hurriedly and off went the coffee pot, dishes and glass. This was too much for Mr. Pepples and he let out a few words that did not become the occasion. Miss Teaters hurried away without saying a word, and as she was not on hand at the intended hour it is supposed, said Mr. Pepples, that she had seen enough and had decided not to marry. This is the second time that she has played Mr. Pepples false and it is to be hoped that the next time they decide on a date the old gentleman will be in the middle of a better streak of luck.

A COUNTRY Jake, with his hair full of hayseed, having raised $500 more money than he ever had before in his life, left his home in Greene county to see the sights of Louisville, but he ran around the first thing. A bunco man spotted him as he came into the union depot and was not mistaken in him being a very soft snap. He struck up an acquaintance with him in the usual way and soon had the greeny from Greene in closest confidence, so much so that he communicated to him the amount of money he had. The fellow then invited the unsuspecting and unsophisticated fool to take a drink and they meandered to the nearest bar. After inhibiting they started back to the depot, when an irate individual accosted the luncheon and demanded the payment of $45. He didn't have the change, but did have a check, for $604 drawn on an Indiana bank. "Would greeny let him have $45 and take the check for security." He wasn't too glad to accommodate the captivating stranger and handed over the amount. They walked on together to the depot, when the man excused himself for a minute, but the minute sped by, hours came and went and "the cometh not" he said. It then began to dawn on the fool's mind that he had been taken in, and when he told his little tale of woe to a policeman, the only consolation he got was a suggestion as to the proper place to drown himself. It seems incredible that this old swindle can be worked in this day and generation, as much as the newspapers have told about it, but suckers are found every day and this item is printed with the hope that it will put people on their guard and cause them to have as little to do with affable strangers as possible.

SANTA CLAUS has made our house his great emporium for useful articles. Come and see. Hughes & Tate.

THE Lincoln County Building & Saving Association is now issuing a new series of stock. Those wanting a safe investment for small amounts, payable in weekly installments can find no better.

Jos. Severance, President, J. J. McRoberts, Secretary, W. M. Bright, Treasurer.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Thos. J. Aldridge, of Garrard, 57 years old and a widower, and Mrs. Alice Baker, 33 and a widow, united their destinies at W. G. Miller's yesterday.

—The engagement of Miss Dollie Higbee, late society editor of the Courier-Journal, and authoress of the novelette "In God's Country," to Wm. Geppert, a music dealer at Atlanta, is announced, the wedding to occur in the near future.

—Miss Jennie Mitchell's breach of promise suit against the Sultan of Johore has been dismissed by the Court of the Queen's Bench, on the ground that the Sultan is a reigning sovereign, to try whom the court has no jurisdiction. So the jocular Johorist can continue to trifle with the affections of unsophisticated females without let or hindrance.

—The marriage of Miss Hattie Duke, of this city, and Mr. L. Tarlton, of Lexington, which has been announced to take place at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday, 5th, on account of the death of Miss Mary Duke, will be quietly solemnized at the residence of Miss Mattie Allen, in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends.—Danville Advocate.

—Joseph A. Shannon and Miss Lullie Moran, of the Milledgeville section, eloped to Jeffersonville and were married by the old Squire that does most of the splicing in that popular Gretna Green. When the couple left the bride's home it was with the avowed intention of going to an entertainment at Hustonville, but they went to Junction City instead and took the train for Louisville.

—The Cincinnati papers give sensational accounts of the elopement and marriage of Mr. J. Beecher Adams and Miss Blanche Twidwell, both of the West End of Lincoln and Mr. Adams' maneuvers are made to appear quite amusing. But it was the first time he ever attempted such a thing and his excitement and anxiety were natural under the circumstances. The reason for the elopement is that there was decided opposition to the marriage on the part of the bride's mother and sisters, but love doesn't take such things into consideration and as the young lady seems to be satisfied and happy, it is hoped that her folks will take a philosophical view of the matter and at least endure with the best grace possible what they can not cure. The bride is petite and pretty, very attractive and lovely, highly accomplished and wealthy. The groom is a son of Squire L. B. Adams and a worthy young man, who deserves the congratulations he is receiving for having won so charming a wife. May neither ever have cause to regret the momentous step they took, but ever have reason for "thanksgiving."

TOUGH TIMES.

The Woe of a Small Boy as Related by Himself.

The corner lamppost at West Madison and Carpenter streets almost hid him from view. He was a mite of a thing, but inured to life's hardships—at least one would judge so from his soliloquy.

He wore a pair of some one else's cast off trousers, likewise a "hand-me-down" coat and a hat that permitted his eyes to see only by the grace of his ears acting as its support.

He smoked the butt of a cigar he had gathered in from the front of a saloon, and between puffs and expectorations he bewailed his hard fate thus:

"Dese yer are dead tough times an dere's no mistako about it eider. De ole man done got a run to de pen an de ole lady is temperamental. Dat settles me boer racket at home.

"Den dere's me chum, Jerry, he's packed his freight fer Kalamazoo, and Jimmy, he's gone to Paris, me little sister's skipped de gutter (too good fer dis world, anyway), de ole cat's dead, an some sneaker done stole me dog. What's de use in livin, anyway?

"Den dey had to go an change de copers on our beat, an dat new cop gave me a camp in dat pants last night dat loosened de front buttons o' my galluses. Dere's no livin around where dere's a new copper. Den Ella Sweeney, my solid girl, dono got thick wid dat dude, Mike Casey, and shuck me dead cold. Dat's bad. I to't a heap o' dat girl.

"Yes, t'ings are gettin dead tough around yer. But what makes me feel de worse ain't any of dese t'ings. No, dat is all bad enough, but when I sneaked in de house las' night an de ole woman caught me an mado me get into a tub o' water an wash me self, dat broke me heart. I want to die now. Jes' tink of it! I was called 'dude' t'ree times comin in t'ree blocks. I can't stand dat. I tink I'll have to hit de road."

And lighting a fresh butt from the one he had been smoking he pulled his hat down over his eyes and stole off up an alley.—Chicago Tribune.

A Cheap Chrysanthemum.

Will—Where on earth did you get that chrysanthemum? That's a bute—largest I ever saw. It seems to me you're getting pretty extravagant these hard times. No florist would think of selling a flower like that for less than $1.

Will—How's that?

George—I go into the kitchen at the boarding house, take a handful of cold slaw, tie it together with a piece of thread, and there you are.—Exchange.

A Careless Youth.

"Cholly's in disgrace at the club again," said Willie Wibbles.

"Deah! Deah! You don't say so. He's always in trouble, isn't he? It was only last week that he came out without his trowsers walled up."

"It's worse this time."

"How?"

"This morning he forgot to bwush and comb his chrysanthemum."—Washington Star.

One on Hicks.

"Some people are much more fortunate in their marriages than others," sneered Hicks. "That's the only reason why I don't consider matrimony a failure."

"You are very right there," said Mrs. Hicks. "Here in our own family you got me, but I—I only got you."—Harper's Bazar.

Are There Too Many Trotters?

"Are there too many trotters in the country?" asked a breeder the other day. That depends upon what standpoint the matter is looked at from. So far as the earning capacity of the average first class trotter is concerned—the good ones, mind you, not the failures—it is not worth talking about. Since the trotting campaign of 1893 opened it has been an everyday occurrence for large fields of horses, every one of which could beat 2:30, and quite a number of which were capable of a mile in 2:20, to start for purses of $500 or $100. It is on record that a mile close to 2:12 has been trotted for a $300 purse, and in the faster classes on the programmes this summer the number of heats better than 2:20 where the consideration in the way of a purse was remarkably small would mount up into the scores.

Down at LaPorte, Ind., for instance, on the Fourth of July, there was a free to all race for a $300 purse. So good a horse as Jalisco was the winner, but he had to step the opening mile in 2:30 and the second in 2:19. By winning the race he received first money, $150, out of which came a 10 per cent entrance fee of $30, making the net sum paid to the best horse $120. To get the animal in shape for a first class performance such an one as would win, it was necessary that he should reach the track at least two days ahead of the race.

It costs something to ship horses, and then there is a driver and rubber who must be paid all the time, and altogether it is pretty hard to figure out how the owner of a horse that wins $300 purses is going to make both ends meet in his horse speculation. The trouble is there is so much trotting that the purses must necessarily be small at nine-tenths of the places where meetings are given, for the simple reason that the attendance is bound to be moderate and the gate receipts correspondingly light.

One trouble is that a man with a 2:20 trotter or 2:15 pacer will generally keep campaigning such an animal at a loss rather than sell him for road use at the price the market offers. Everybody who has had to do with the trotting turf knows this—knows that there is never a meeting, big or small, but that some unfortunate—more likely half a dozen of him—must be assisted by friendly hands to reach "thoneestown," where "I'll have a pretty good horse and get a piece of the purse."

What owners want to learn is to sell the first time a fair price is offered, remembering that even what most of them would consider the insultingly small amount of $1,000 is better to have in the house than a 2:20 trotter that can hardly keep even when he wins, while as soon as he is out of the first flight there is a big deficit every week. The times are such that prices running well into the thousands will no longer be given for road horses unless the speed and other qualities are of an exceptional character. There are entirely too many 2:30, 2:20 and 2:15 horses produced every year for the price of them not to be affected. It is not so very many years ago that the entire 2:30 list did not contain as many names as there were trotters beat 2:30 last season for the first time. That tells the story. There is a good market for trotting speed right now, when everybody admits that times are hard, but it is at prices consistent with the facts in the case.—Breeder's Gazette.

Mr. J. P. Hilar, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that State during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Hilar had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get home, and, in consequence, he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Hilar sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Hilar regards his cure as simply wonderful.
